

Dovey Johnson Roundtree is an alumnus of Spelman College and the Howard University School of Law, a former army officer and a minister of the A.M.E Zion Church. Ms. Roundtree conquered color barriers, shattered desegregation, and fearlessly forged a unique fusion of her ministerial duties with her legal profession. Although she retired from active legal practice in 1996, Ms. Roundtree's legacy of public advocacy for many voiceless citizens of Charlotte and Washington, D.C. has not gone unnoticed

JUSTICE OLDER THAN THE LAW

Thursday, March 4, 6 - 8 p.m.

Levine Museum of the New South

The evening includes a reception, reading and booksigning with Katie McCabe, author of Justice Older than the Law, which celebrates the life and legacy of Charlotte native Dovey Johnson Roundtree. In addition, a panel of distinguished female, legal professionals from the region will share their perspective on what it means to be a woman attorney in today's legal market and what lessons they have learned from the professional conduct of Ms. Roundtree's legacy.

Moderated by former WCNC news anchor Sterlin Benson Webber, program panelists include:

- Tricia Derr – attorney at Lincoln Derr
- Valecia McDowell – attorney at Moore&VanAllen
- Nancy Norelli – former NC District Judge and attorney at Norelli Law
- Corie Pauling – senior counsel for TIAA-CREF
- Geraldine Sumter – attorney at Ferguson, Stein, Chamber, Gresham and Sumter
